

Women Lead the Board is part of a series of programmes designed to better equip those who want to contribute to the leadership of an organisation. The aim is to provide both a theoretical perspective underpinning good governance and training in its practical application; it enables its graduates to make valuable and strategic contributions to organisations in the not for profit sector, in particular, housing. The programme targets professional women who have the vision to contribute to a more balanced demographic of board composition across the private, public and voluntary sector, and an appetite to contribute to good governance. The four modules are delivered over two Friday/Saturday blocks on a regional basis to minimise time out of work and the amount of travelling.

Bristol

28/29 Feb 2020
15/16 May 2020

Cardiff

17/18 Jan 2020
27/28 March 2020

Leeds

09/10 Oct 2020
22/23 Jan 2021

Programme Benefits

Access to peer support and network building - a mix of women bringing experience from a variety of sectors and discipline.

Coaching around boardroom impact, techniques to raise your profile, voice and body language, boardroom relationships, CV and interview skills, taking the next step.

Access to the governance portal, the home of resources for governance in all sectors and membership of ACGP.

Learning materials with reflective practice questions and an opportunity to undertake a Post Graduate Certificate in The Practice of Management (Governance Leadership), with Edinburgh Napier University.

Testimonials

I learned more in those four days than I had thought possible. Fantastic speakers, thoughtful sessions, lots of practical stuff and tools which I use regularly. (Board Chair)

One of the most inspirational courses I have had the pleasure to attend. It provided real clarity about what good governance looks like, inspired me to make changes to my non-executive and executive careers, and gave me confidence to find my voice (Charity Finance director, Trustee)

This programme certainly contributes to raising standards in Governance. (Board Member, Audit Committee Chair)

Course sponsors: